Spotlight on: Monadnock Kitty Rescue & Adoption

by: Sue Lyle

Carol Gove If dogs are "man's best friend," then it might be said that cats, not diamonds, are a woman's. And when a cat goes without a place to call home, a group of women (and a few men) spring into action at Monadnock Kitty Rescue & Adoption.

Quietly nestled in a Jaffrey office park, there are 150 cats living at "Kitty Rescue." As each cat is surrendered or brought in out of the cold, they are given medical attention including spay/neutering, rabies and distemper vaccines, testing for feline leukemia and FIV as well as micro chipping (for those cats going home) along with socialization and a cage-free room chosen specifically for that individual's personality and needs. With seven to choose from, there is a place for everyone ranging from the youthful rakish prowlers to quiet dignified seniors.

Founded in 2002 by Laura Belletete Gordon and sharing space with her and her husband's company, Kitty Rescue began as an effort to humanely manage feral cats in the Monadnock region. With help from other founders Heidi Bourgeois and Mary Wright, they embarked on a goal to "assist the community by maintaining control of the local stray and feral cat population as well as finding loving 'second-chance' homes...." Open to cats of any age or health, Kitty

Rescue "provides basic necessities including but not limited to food, housing, medical attention (including spaying and neutering) with the hope of finding our cats a permanent home." However, if no home can be found, the cats are allowed to live out their years in comfort and companionship.

Currently the shelter is full and can only take new "members" upon the revolving placement of another. According to Executive Director and Adoption Manager Carol Gove of Temple, "there have been thousands of cats saved since the shelter was founded, and since January of 2008 alone we have placed nearly 450 cats into loving homes," which means, remarkably, a placement approximately every other day.

With an eye towards sustaining this momentum, Kitty Rescue & Adoption, a privately funded by donation 501(C)3 non-profit managed entirely by volunteers, has begun a

From the President Honoring Our History

For the Chamber this has been a time to recall and reflect upon our history. Recently we hosted a celebration party in honor of our purchase of our building. We thanked our members, volunteers, staff, board members and the past board Presidents. We offered a particularly special thank you to Steve Pelkey who contributed greatly to our ability to have a permanent home on Main Street. It was a wonderful evening. Our building was filled with joy, camaraderie and laughter. Particularly exciting was the presence of 12 of our past presidents.

It seems to me that many businesses and nonprofits

find that the facts and stories of their history become lost. One aspect of the Chamber that makes us unique is the extent to which we pay attention to our history. Every year we include historical facts and stories in our new board member orientation. And, we intentionally embed our long-standing values in all of our policies and procedures.

Of course, rigid adherence to the past may well stand in the way of healthy adaptation. Well thought out and planned change is important to the health and vitality of any company, agency or individual. It helps keep us energized and agile. On the other hand, allowing one's history to become lost and forgotten in the torrential demands of the present is to become untethered. In order to fly freely, a kite needs to be grounded; our history grounds us particularly in the face of change.

I encourage all businesses and nonprofits to document your history. Make note of the areas in which you have developed. Gain a clear understanding of the driving forces and the reasons for your decisions to change. Pay attention to those things that have endured over time. Uncover how and why they have "survived."

Thanks again to all of you, our members, for contributing to our past and to our present. I'll close with a special thank you to our "ancestors" – founding "father" Marc Tieger, our Charter Members, all of our Past Presidents, and past board members. Without you all we wouldn't be where we are right now.

Happy Thanksgiving, everyone!

Lee Bruder

The most-asked question is - "what does Salmagundi mean?" There is a debate whether Salmagundi originated from the English or the French. In early 17th century England, Salmagundi was a dish comprised of meats, seafood, vegetables, fruit, leaves, nuts and flowers with a dressing of spices, oil and vinegar. The French definition of Salmagundi means a variety, medley, assortment or mixture. Come and visit and see our ever-changing mixture of goodies!

Kitty Rescue and Adoption to Hold 1st Annual Charitable Auction November 13

Kitty Rescue and Adoption (KRA) is hosting an auction on November 13 from 7-10 pm at the Shattuck Golf Club. The event is to raise funds for the development of a new shelter in the Jaffrey/Rindge area. The event will feature a number of raffled items as well as a silent and live auction, music and a diverse sampling of hors d'oeuvres from many local restaurants.

Among the numerous, eclectic items available for the live auction are a scenic plane ride over Mt. Monadnock, New England Patriots tickets, dinner and an overnight stay at the Monadnock Inn, horse-back riding lessons, a hand-made king-sized quilt, a Bissell vacuum cleaner, and a sleigh ride at Silver Ranch for 10-15 people. A full, detailed list of all donated items is available on their website, which will be updated regularly prior to the auction date.

KRA has also partnered with Benefit Wines of Winchendon, Massachusetts to present six varieties of wines with a customized KRA label. A percentage of the sale Kitty Rescue from page 1 capital campaign with a November 13th kick-off auction. The goal is to raise funds to purchase land and build a new shelter that is designed for easy cleaning, a larger cat community, an examining room and even sunny outdoor-caged in-solarium spots for cat-naps. Also included will be at least two full-time staff who under their consistent leadership would provide day to day managing, marketing and grant-writing efforts, thus maximizing the scope and depth of possibilities for each arriving cat. Recent arrival "Daisy," who joined Kitty Rescue due to her family's economic hardship, had ruled the roost at home for 13 years. She had difficulty adjusting to the shared community and responded with isolation and aggression. An adopter arrived a few weeks ago and specifically requested the cat "who needed a home the most." Daisy's benefactor sat in front of her for several visits and then took her home where she has flourished, as you can see from her cameo. "Gilbert," a beautiful green-eyed Maine coon cat, also arrived with defensive storminess from a difficult abusive home life and initially refused to come out of his cage. However after much gentle care, patience and the addition of behavioral medication from our shelter veterinarian, Gilbert slowly emerged into the community and was soon adopted.

Today, there remains a focus on feral cats. Although not all ferals can be domesticated, Mary, of these wines will benefit the shelter and are an enjoyable way to support its work. They can be ordered from their website and shipped directly to the customer or, to avoid shipping charges, they can be picked up directly at the auction.,

Tickets are available on the shelter website www.kittyrescueandadoption.org, at the shelter, or at the Jaffrey Chamber of Commerce. Please contact Carol Gove at info@kittyrescueandadoption.org with any additional questions.

fondly known as the "feral queen" or "cat whisperer," has been successfully integrating many of them into domestic life and into adopting homes. For those not adopted, they continue to live at Kitty Rescue well cared for and cage free. Carol speaks of her "tremendous team of volunteers as the reason for their success," although it seems difficult to discern who benefits more, the cats or the volunteers. Carol adds that the Franklin Pierce University students seem to really soak up the homey atmosphere. Parents often volunteer with their children, which provides a nice bonding time of fun responsibility. High school students aged 16 and up are welcome to come in on their own. Volunteers are needed for a wide variety of tasks in addition to kitty care. Carpentry, office work and vet running are all vital to their efforts. So don't paws, contact Kitty Rescue at info@kittyrescueandadoption.org and see if you can help too.

In September The Park Theatre Trustees met with two dozen of the regional performing artistic groups, such as Actors' Circle Theatre, Peterborough Players, Monadnock Chorus, Monadnock Music and others to develop future plans and joint programs. The Theatre's Performing Partners Steering Committee members working with the region's artistic community are Christina Meinke, Monadnock Music, Amy Knight, Chair, Monadnock Chorus, Mariah Sefel, Actors' Circle Theatre and Caroline Hollister, The Park Theatre.

The following week the Theatre hosted a "Reception for Artists of the Fifth Mountain Mural" to celebrate the completion of the project. Nearly all of the panels have been completed. Many of the 117 mural artists attended the champagne reception at the Theatre and spoke to guests about their panels in the project. The following morning, Susan Shaw-Sarles, Principal of Jaffrey Grade School, brought Mrs. Sargent's class to see the mural and enjoy the panels painted by their art teacher Mary Giandalone. Members of the Chamber of Commerce Board also stopped by to see the mural and learn about the Theatre project.

The following day, the mural committee, chaired by Ed Merrill, removed the panels and placed them in storage until the mural is installed in its temporary home in the newly-built emergency room facilities at Monadnock Community Hospital later in the year.

In October, filmmaker Daniel Huber of Rindge interviewed many residents with historic ties to the Theatre as part of the documentary on the restoration and reopening of the building. Included in the filming were Vanni's granddaughters, Lyn Lambert and Brenda Case, Ray Record, whose father performed at the Theatre with his "Sunset Ramblers" singing group and Frank Sterling, former Selectman and Theatre projectionist. The first cut of the documentary will be premiered at the Theatre's Annual Meeting on December 2 at 5:30 at the Jaffrey Woman's Club. The event is free and open to the public. Refreshments and entertainment, including Bernie and Louise, will be a part of the evening's festivities.

2D or Not 2D: Art Inspired by Poetry

From Colette Lucas's Emily Dickinson-inspired entry to a work based on a poem by Kitty Cloud's granddaughter, nineteen of the area's most talented artists have combined to translate their favorite poems into a dazzling display of paintings, prints, collage, glass, ceramics and much more. The exhibit is titled 2D or Not 2D: Art Inspired by Poetry, and it arrives just in time for holiday viewing and gifting at Sharon Arts Downtown Galleries, November 5th to December 31st, 2010. An opening reception will take place on Friday, November 5th from 5-7pm; the public is welcome and light refreshments will be served.

The artists are members of two popular local cooperatives, The Left Bank and Three Squared artists.

A series of educational events is planned to coincide with this exhibit. The series kicks off with the Left Bank Artist Walk and Talk on Thursday, November 18th, from 5:00 to 6:30 pm. Also planned is a Three Squared Artist Walk and Talk on Wednesday December 8th, from 6:00 to 7:30 pm.

Students from the Art and English Departments at ConVal High School will partner with exhibiting artists by attending the opening reception, visiting the studio of one of the artists, writing a poem inspired by artworks included in the exhibition, and creating an art piece inspired by a classmate's poem.

Further information about 2D or Not 2D: Art Inspired by Poetry can be obtained on the Sharon Arts website, www.sharonarts.org.
